INTRODUCTION

The City of Winnipeg has demonstrated innovation in support for artists and arts organizations through the establishment of the Winnipeg Arts Council Inc., entrusting the governance and management of municipal arts grants and awards to the community itself. The successor to the Winnipeg Arts Advisory Council, the Winnipeg Arts Council (one of only four municipal arts councils in Canada) was approved by City Council in 2002, with a mandate to manage the City's conditional grant for the purposes of awards to artists and arts organizations.

The Arts Council is governed by a Board, with half of its members elected from the arts community and half appointed through the municipal process of Citizen Appointments to Boards and Commissions. The voice of the arts community is combined with that of citizens in the interests of advancing arts and culture in Winnipeg. As an independent, not-for-profit organization, the Winnipeg Arts Council may also engage with other funding partners in the development of resources for the Arts Council's designated purpose. The City is now utilizing the Arts Council model to create similar governance and management for Assiniboine Park and for funding museums.

The funding programs of the Winnipeg Arts Council are notably creative and have been confirmed as such by other agencies and the arts community. The Arts Council provides funding to individual artists for creative projects and professional development, and to arts organizations for operating needs, for projects and through a new program for marketing and audience development. Another program, the Youth Arts Initiatives Collaborative Grant, is intended for arts organizations who wish to partner with community organizations to undertake an innovative approach to the development of opportunities for youth involvement in the arts. It embraces cultural plurality and is open to a range of activities and art forms. One of the most innovative programs is the New Creations Fund, which awards significant amounts to Winnipeg arts organizations for the commission, production and presentation of new works that otherwise would not be achievable. The Arts Council employs the peer assessment process for all arts awards. Additionally, the Arts Council has undertaken the creation of an interactive digital cultural map of Winnipeg, to be introduced in 2008.

The City of Winnipeg has delegated the management and delivery of a Public Art Program to the Winnipeg Arts Council. Funded from the City's capital budget at $500,000 annually, the program was launched in 2004. Projects completed thus far have included new works installed in the renovated Millennium Library and Vimy Ridge Park, artist residencies in the Living Prairie Museum and the City Archives, and an innovative program, WITH ART, which matches artists from all disciplines with community groups to engage together in creative projects that are rooted in that particular community.

In 2007, the Winnipeg Arts Council inaugurated two significant events: The Mayor's Luncheon for the Arts, where the arts community, patrons, business and public funders gathered to celebrate Winnipeg's artistic achievements under the patronage of the Mayor; and the Winnipeg Arts Council Annual Arts Awards, which publicly honour artists and donors in the community. Both events were received with overwhelmingly positive interest from the community and from the press.

The Winnipeg Arts Council works closely with municipal departments, the city business associations, tourism, various funding partners (public and private), the arts community and the community at large, to facilitate communication and resources in the interests of Winnipeg's cultural life. The Arts Council plans and initiates projects and activities that embrace community and perpetuate Winnipeg's reputation as a cultural hub in Canada.

In 2007, the Winnipeg Arts Council spearheaded a bid to the Department of Canadian Heritage to have Winnipeg named Cultural Capital of Canada in 2010. The results will be known early in 2009. Arts for All, the overarching motif that defines Winnipeg as Cultural Capital of Canada in 2010, proclaims a vision for the project—that all people have access to the arts, are able to participate in the arts, and value and are enriched by the arts. Utilizing the two themes outlined below, we can engage and respond to the question “What is it about Winnipeg that makes it so special and unique, and that has it producing the most interesting art in every quarter, in every discipline?” in ways that are inclusive and diverse, and that champion artistic achievement.

- HOW WE LIVE TOGETHER

This theme draws upon one of this city's notable qualities—its many and varied cultural communities. The many activities in this project would use dialogue to bridge differences and engage the entire city in the arts, as participants and audience.

- CITY OF IMAGINATION

Imagine is the defining word in the second theme. Winnipeg has made its creative output the stuff of legends, where the city is mythologized as a hothouse for the arts in Canada: its distinctiveness and resilience; its tenacity and idiosyncrasies and its determination to be the author of its own experience.

Executive Director

GRANTS PROGRAMMING

With a focus on artistic excellence and community impact, the Winnipeg Arts Council supports opportunities for the people of Winnipeg to engage with the arts as artists and audiences. Responding to evolving practices and the needs of Winnipeg’s diverse artistic community, WAC invested $3,777,128.16 in 2007 into the thriving Winnipeg arts scene in 2007 through its varied grant programs. In addition to wide-ranging multidisciplinary programs, WAC confirmed its commitment to youth access and audience development by adding a permanent budget line for the proactive Youth Arts Initiative Collaborative Grant Program piloted in the fall of 2006.

Staff continued to explore ways to increase WAC’s accessibility by participating in a national forum exchanging ideas about capacity building and diversity initiatives in the arts; co-hosting a roundtable discussion with younger artists; and giving talks about WAC’s programs to diverse audiences, including presentations about grants available to Aboriginal artists. WAC’s efforts to spread the word about opportunities for artists was reflected in a 20 percent increase in applications over the previous year and a 50 percent increase in applications since 2003.

MAJOR NEW WORKS

by Winnipeg artists for Winnipeg audiences supported by the New Creations Fund

The Winnipeg Arts Council has invested over $1,000,000 in new work by Winnipeg artists for Winnipeg audiences since introducing the New Creations Fund in 2003. These large-scale, multi-year projects include the grand opera Transit of Venus, and multidisciplinary dance production Herding Instinct, both of which premiered to Winnipeg audiences in 2007.

A $200,000 grant from the New Creations Fund in 2006 enabled the Manitoba Opera Association to commission their first full-length opera for the main stage. Transit of Venus—a three-act opera with full orchestra, composed by Victor Davies with libretto by Maureen Hunter—had a budget of $1,200,000 and premiered November 24, 27 and 30, 2007 in Winnipeg.

A $50,000 grant from the New Creations Fund was awarded to TRIP Dance Company in 2005 to develop a new evening-length work featuring seven dancers and choreographed for stage by Karen Kuzak, with film and sound elements by Danishka Esterhazy and Ken Gregory. Herding Instinct premiered in Winnipeg March 23 and 24, 2007 to sold-out houses. This innovative new work has since been enjoyed by audiences in Regina and Calgary and will continue to tour.

INTRODUCING THE WINNIPEG ARTS COUNCIL AWARDS & MAYOR'S LUNCHEON FOR THE ARTS

Mayor Sam Katz presented the first Winnipeg Arts Council Arts Awards at the sold-out Mayor's Luncheon for the Arts, Friday, June 15, 2007 at the Hotel Fort Garry. The purpose of this celebration is to recognize and promote the arts, artists, and partnerships that make Winnipeg a centre for cultural achievement. In the four award categories, the 2007 winners are:

THE ON THE RISE AWARD recognizes the demonstrated promise of a new professional artist (in any discipline) whose career span has not exceeded five years. The award is a cash prize of $2,500.

Winner: Sarah Anne Johnson

nominated by Plug In ICA

Sarah Anne Johnson is a visual artist searching for community through the lens of a camera, the memories of tree planting, and tableaux mingling craft materials with utopian dreams.

THE MAKING A MARK AWARD applauds a professional artist (in any discipline) in mid-career, who is receiving critical recognition for excellence in their art practice in Winnipeg and beyond. The award is a cash prize of $2,500.

Winner: Andrew Balfour

nominated by Camerata Nova

Winnipeg composer Andrew Balfour, of Aboriginal descent, is a star in the area of choral music. He is the founder, arranger and artistic director of Camerata Nova, a vocal group specializing in early and contemporary classical and world music, offering experimental performances in non-traditional venues all over the city to growing audiences.

THE MAKING A DIFFERENCE AWARD celebrates the contribution of an artist, arts administrator or arts organization to the growth and development of the arts in Winnipeg. The award is a cash prize of $2,500.

Winner: David Barber

nominated by Matthew Rankin

David Barber has been programmer at the Cinematheque since 1982. He has been a crucial figure in the development of independent cinema in Winnipeg and an outstanding ally to generations of Winnipeg filmmakers.

THE ARTS CHAMPION AWARD honours an individual or business patron who has demonstrated sustained support to the arts in Winnipeg. The award is a unique work by a Winnipeg artist, this year by Sheila Spence.

Winner: Kathleen Richardson

nominated by The Royal Winnipeg Ballet, the Manitoba Theatre Centre, the Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra, and the Manitoba Opera

Four of Winnipeg's largest arts organizations nominated just one candidate as the first recipient of this award. Kathleen Richardson represents the epitome of an arts patron, here or anywhere. Winnipeg's vibrant artistic landscape can be attributed in large part to her involvement with all the cultural organizations that this city has come to cherish.

Three hundred and ninety guests attended the Mayor's Luncheon for the Arts and the Awards, demonstrating overwhelming support for this first-time event. Guest speaker was Ian Ross and master of ceremonies Steve Kirby. Stephanie Ballard organized a performance of Landscape Dancers that greeted the luncheon guests, and Steve Kirby's jazz trio with Curtis Nowosad and Larry Roy played before the event.

THE CAROL SHIELDS WINNIPEG BOOK AWARD

The Carol Shields Winnipeg Book Award honours books that evoke the special character of, and contribute to the appreciation and understanding of, the City of Winnipeg. It is a tribute to Carol Shields, who did that in her own writing. The award, a juried annual prize of $5,000, is sponsored by the City of Winnipeg through the Winnipeg Arts Council and administered by the Association of Manitoba Book Publishers.

The winner was announced Saturday, April 28, 2007 at the 18th annual Brave New Words: Manitoba Writing and Publishing Awards gala held at the Winnipeg Art Gallery. The Awards are co-produced by the Manitoba Writers' Guild and the Association of Manitoba Book Publishers.

JURORS

Donald Benham, Kathleen Darby, Kathleen Williams

WINNER

Winnipeg Modern: Architecture 1945-1970

edited by Serena Keshavjee

(University of Manitoba Press)

Jury Comments: Anyone who has ever stopped to gaze at a modern Winnipeg building will want to read this chronicle of the city's post-war building boom. With prose that is rich, yet accessible, Keshavjee and her contributors help the reader to understand and appreciate the big concepts that inspired the big buildings. The book is richly illustrated with many photos by the late Henry Kalen, whose love of Winnipeg's built form shines through.

SHORTLIST

Beautiful Girl Thumb

written by Melissa Steele

(Turnstone Press)

Jury Comments: Beautiful Girl Thumb positively shines with clever short stories featuring fresh, memorable characters. We are given the opportunity to laugh ("Beautiful Girl Thumb"), be shocked ("Diplomacy") and smile at the foibles of humankind ("They Eat Their Young," "I'm Your Frankenstein"). Troubled teens and family strife are presented with deft touches of humour and insight. Throughout, relationships develop, stumble forward and fall apart to reveal wisdom and truth.

Queen of Diamonds

written by Catherine Hunter

(Ravenstone, an imprint of Turnstone Press)

Jury Comments: Hunter's work is gripping, and leaves a feeling of having been whisked away to another place. Yet that other place is just down the block! Hunter evokes the character of Winnipeg in a mystical way, weaving undercurrents of intrigue and crime. A thoroughly enjoyable book.

St. John's College: Faith and Education in Western Canada

written by J.M. Bumsted

(University of Manitoba Press)

Jury Comments: The little college that could: Bumsted traces the often troubled and always intriguing history of St. John's College. The College's days as a fixture in the North End, through its near end as the victim of a widespread embezzlement scheme, numerous bouts of under-funding, two world wars and countless internal and external struggles, are well detailed. A rich, accessible and lively contribution to the understanding of the Anglican Church and colleges of Winnipeg.

The Winnipeg Connection: Writing Lives at Mid-Century

edited by Birk Sproxtton

(Prairie Fire Press)

Jury Comments: In his introduction, the late Birk Sproxtton attempts to explain the serendipity of so many talented writers living in one place at one time: long winters, physical isolation and cultural cross-pollination. The balance of the book is a loving look back at some of Winnipeg's most cherished writers—and some who deserve more continuing attention—mixed with some of their original work. This book is a genuine addition to Winnipeg's literary history.

WINNIPEG'S PUBLIC ART PROGRAM

The Public Art Policy and Program is managed by the Winnipeg Arts Council on behalf of the City of Winnipeg and is funded by an annual allocation from the City's capital budget. Since the policy was approved by City Council in 2004, the public art initiative has evolved into a diverse and steadily growing program that includes art commissions, artist-in-residence programs and community-based projects. As the creation of public art can be a lengthy process, with projects extending over one year or more, many projects are currently in various stages of development.

Collin Zipp's video artwork lost_landscape, created during his year-long residency at the Living Prairie Museum, opened to the public in 2007. A series of postcards created for each public art project was also launched at this time. WITH ART projects by Leah Decter with the Spence Neighbourhood Association and by Jim Sanders with the Manitoba Urban Native Housing Association continued with active involvement from the community participants. Public Art Manager Tricia Wasney gave several presentations on public art locally and was invited to participate in a national forum on public art in Saskatoon.

Several public art projects were initiated and awarded in 2007:

IN THE HEART OF THE EXCHANGE

In April 2007, the Winnipeg Arts Council settled into a new purpose-designed space that meets community and specific administrative needs of Staff and Board on the main floor of the Fairchild Lofts Building, 110 Princess Street. At last, each staff member has a comfortable work space. As illustrated, the reception area is both welcoming and impressive. Now equipped with meeting space for 40, kitchen facilities and all the requisite technology, the Arts Council has met the primary criteria of accessibility, serviceability and economy with a well-designed minimalist approach.

We are sincerely grateful to Neil Minuk and Robert Wilson for helping us to create a very special environment. Richard Dyck created an original and ever-changing video presentation of the arts in Winnipeg for display in the entrance waiting area. A reference library focusing on Winnipeg arts and artists, urban development in the city and public art is growing and available for anyone to use.

The meeting room can be booked on an occasional basis by arts groups and others seeking a comfortable, well-equipped meeting location in the Exchange District.

Thank you to everyone at the Manitoba Centennial Corporation for all the services and support during our tenancy there.

WITH SINCERE APPRECIATION...

The City of Winnipeg continues to support the purpose and activities of the Winnipeg Arts Council through its yearly allocation. In 2007, the City completed the multi-year funding plan begun in 2003, which doubled grants awards to the arts in Winnipeg over a five-year period.

The Winnipeg Arts Council is grateful to Mayor Sam Katz and to each and every City Councillor for their continued interest and support. The Committee on Protection and Community Services, with Chair Gord Steeves and members Jenny Gerbasi, Grant Nordman and Mike Pagtakhan, has been particularly receptive to Arts Council initiatives.

We would like to thank the City Clerk's Office—Richard Kachur, Marc Lemoine and Wayne Gulenchyn; the EPC Secretariat, Brian Gray and Caroline Neufeld, and Acting CAO, Alex Robinson; Kenny Boyce, Manager of Film and Cultural Affairs—and all the city officials who are generous with advice and assistance.

As volunteers committed to the arts and artists in Winnipeg, the entire Board of Directors of the Winnipeg Arts Council has devoted hours of consideration to guiding the Arts Council. The valuable work of the Public Art Committee is greatly appreciated.

Public Art Manager Tricia Wasney works closely with City staff on procedures to implement the Public Art Policy and Program. The Planning, Property and Development Department is the primary liaison for project development, including review of all site plans. Thanks especially to Planning, Property and Development staff, including Director Harry Finnigan, Acting Director Jim Paterson, Dianne Himbeault, Donna Beaton, Lee Caldwell, Mike McGinn, and Christina Harris; Lisa Bogi and James Carter of the Legal Services Department; Elaine Martin of Risk Management; Jonina Ewart, Kyle Lucyk and Lori Nichols of the Living Prairie Museum; Frank Caldwell of Assiniboine Park Enterprise; Bill Menzies of Transit; Diana Emerson of Public Works; Gerry Berkowski and Jody Baltessen of the City of Winnipeg Archives; and to external partners Stefano Grande and Stephanie Voyce of the Downtown BIZ; Jennifer Rattray of the University of Winnipeg and Jeff Frank of Hilderman Thomas Frank Cram. Appreciation is also extended to Lisa Kehler for her research assistance on the upcoming Public Art Map.

Spencer Duncanson has been Chair of the Winnipeg Arts Council Board of Directors since 2004. He has guided the Board with wisdom through a period of tremendous growth and change. Always the consummate diplomat, Spencer has been an outstanding ambassador for the Winnipeg Arts Council and for the arts in Winnipeg. He has made an invaluable contribution in this leadership role, and as an artist in this city.

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

As I look back on the past four years and my tenure as Chair of the Arts Council, I am encouraged by the Council's many accomplishments, including incorporation, peer juried assessment, increased funds and new grants; and saddened by the multitude of projects in which I will no longer be a participant. Pondering this scenario, I am forced to come to terms with a fact of life that is often far too unsettling—change.

Georg C. Lichtenberg said: "I cannot say whether things will get better if we change; what I can say is they must change if they are to get better." If this is true, we must embrace change as individuals and as a community, seeking always to make things better. The arts are alive and well in Winnipeg today and we hope that this will continue. Nonetheless, we must be diligent in our pursuit of excellence for, like everything else without a concerted will, the change that we experience may prove to be less than satisfactory.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the brilliant staff and Board of Directors of the Winnipeg Arts Council for their invaluable support over the years, and to thank you for your willingness to experience change.

Spencer C. Duncanson
